

To The Editor:

The suit of Miss Ruth Brown, Ex-Bartlesville librarian is pending before the State Supreme court. Consider the following events and the obvious attempts to bias the decision of the court. National support is evident.

1. The American Civil Liberties Union (MC Melvyn Douglas, nuff said) attacked the Bartlesville City Commissioners on December 15, 1950 in a nation wide hook up on NBC.

2. "Intellectual Freedom" committee of the Oklahoma Library Association smears the Bartlesville citizens committee in the press.

3. Persistent attempts by liberal pinks in the press to falsify facts by saying the librarian was dismissed for harboring subversive literature. Insubordination was the reason.

4. Attempts by camouflage to undermine our whole structure of government by trying to deny duly elected city commissioners the right to conduct the affairs of the city democratically. Add them all up, flick the red typewriter ribbon and you get a RED four.

Very Truly Yours,
